JOEY AND VICKI HAY

Starke, Florida

Sadly, hundreds of churches across the US close their doors every year. That's why missionaries like Joey and Vicki Hay play a key role by coming alongside churches that have either died or are close to death.

The church that utilized the building in Starke, Florida, where Joey now pastors, had dissolved and left the building vacant. Joey and a team from a sister church, however, were able to step in and replant a new congregation that has started reaching the community with a fresh vision and passion for those who need the Gospel.

THE COOPERATIVE PROGRAM is the financial fuel for reaching every person for Jesus Christ in every town, every city, every state, and every nation. Your support through the Cooperative Program helps revitalize struggling churches in order for them to relaunch so that a Gospel witness in the community is not lost.

PRAY for Joey and Vicki Hay as they continue ministering to and sharing the Gospel with those in their community and that their church will be a growing light there.
